We are pleased to advise that we have just held our first Copic Educators Certification and the feedback was extremely positive. All 25 participants thoroughly enjoyed the class, found it to be informative, inspirational, good value for money, they loved the hands on practical approach and class exercises and said they would recommend the class to a friend.

The Copic Educators Certification is aimed at secondary and tertiary educators wanting to learn how to achieve the best possible results when using Copic alcohol Markers. This class will focus on numerous Copic techniques including:

- Design rendering and illustration
- Blending and colour selection
- Altered arts techniques
- Air brushing
- working on a variety of surfaces

The class is a hands on opportunity to develop your skills whilst performing a range of exercises which can be reproduced when teaching your own classes.

The class will be taught by Mark Wilken, Guest Lecturer - National School of Design Swinburne University.

You will receive a comprehensive (80 page) manual covering a wide variety of techniques and applications as well as suggested exercises.

You will also receive an extensive kit of Copic products.

Class fee $195 (includes Copic Kit, Manual, morning tea, afternoon tea and lunch).

Class runs from 9:00am – 4:00pm

Proposed Date: Sunday May 27, 2012

Location: Oxlades

To register for this class please fill out and return the attached form and return it to us asap. We will be in touch shortly after we receive your application.
